

Photos/Videos: UUCM hosts fifth Annual Interfaith Music Festival

Unitarian Universalist Congregation at Montclair hosted their fifth annual Interfaith Music Festival. Congregations from in and around Montclair came together to share music in the sanctuary on Sunday, Feb. 11. The concert concluded with a performance by all participants.

1 of 7

The Montclair Interfaith Choir, six choirs and soloists consisting of UUCM's Chamber Chorus and Chalice Choir, The Choir of the Presbyterian Church of Upper Montclair and Temple Ner Tamid of Bloomfield, get together for the finale and fill the room with song at the fifth annual Montclair Interfaith Music Festival, in the Sanctuary at Unitarian Universalist Congregation at Montclair, Sunday evening, Feb. 11. ADAM ANIK/FOR MONTCLAIR LOCAL

Anne Marie Johnson directs The Choir of the Presbyterian Church of Upper Montclair. ADAM ANIK/FOR MONTCLAIR LOCAL

Stearns Matthews of the Unitarian Universalist Church at Montclair sings a trio of selections from the American songbook during the fifth annual Montclair Interfaith Music Festival. ADAM ANIK/FOR MONTCLAIR LOCAL

The seats in the Sanctuary at Unitarian Universalist Congregation at Montclair are packed with performers and attendees for Montclair the fifth annual Montclair Interfaith Music Festival. ADAM ANIK/FOR MONTCLAIR LOCAL

Temple Ner Tamid of Bloomfield's Cantor Meredith Greenberg and Leora Perlman sing religious songs. ADAM ANIK/FOR MONTCLAIR LOCAL

The Chamber Chorus of the UUCM sings "Magnificat" by Francesco Durante. ADAM ANIK/FOR MONTCLAIR LOCAL

Markus Grae-Hauck, UUCM music director plays the piano as Judith Rew conducts The Chalice Choir of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation at Montclair performing "Returning To The Root." ADAM ANIK/FOR MONTCLAIR LOCAL

